the power of community

2020 NEWSLETTER

More than 45 years ago, local leaders who were committed to making the county a better place for all created the Westchester Community Foundation. Today, to work toward that goal, donor-advisors direct $4 million in grants each year. With the help of legacy gifts that have grown through The New York Community Trust’s sound fiscal management, the Foundation distributes an additional $2.1 million annually in grants to local nonprofits and $234,000 in scholarships to Westchester students. With keen guidance from a volunteer Board of Advisors, the Foundation keeps our community informed about emerging issues that need concerted action, such as the unmet needs of older LGBTQ+ residents and improving our regional workforce system by finding ways to connect employers and jobseekers.

This year the Foundation moved quickly to address the coronavirus pandemic. In response to an appeal, the community contributed more than $2 million to our Westchester COVID-19 Response Fund. With our depth of knowledge of local nonprofits, we worked with the philanthropic community to direct emergency funds, in the form of grants, while developing responses to the long-term needs of the community.

The pandemic, recession, and increasingly adverse effects of climate change make it clear that it is our collective responsibility to ensure a future that is just, equitable, and sustainable for all. Our community’s courage and commitment to these values shines through the stories in this newsletter.

What do you care about? Is it education, social justice, racial equity, environmental protection, or some other issue? Each year, more of you decide to work with the Foundation to align your philanthropic goals with your desire to strengthen our community. Whatever your passion, we are here to help you make a difference.

Water is vital to life. In our densely populated region, watershed protection requires oversight through water-quality testing and innovative cleaning and filtering technology. With grants from the H.P. Kraft Memorial Fund, Save the Sound has established a strong base of grassroots citizen activists to test water quality and report sewage spills that pollute the Long Island Sound.

Save the Sound knows that the next generation must be a strong voice for environmental stewardship. It has enlisted young leaders in the Teen Keystone Club at the Boys & Girls Club of Mount Vernon to join the cause. Grants to the Club are from the Westchester Wallace Fund for Youth.

The Foundation’s economic and workforce initiative seeks to close the gap between job seekers and employers by investing in innovative workforce programming. In 2020 we launched the Westchester Workforce Funders Collaborative with philanthropic and corporate partners to attract new resources.

The goal is clear: Whether people don hard hats or scrubs, they will find a good-paying job and see themselves on a career path. Employers will gain workers with the skills to succeed.

With a grant from the DeWitt Wallace Fund for Youth, the Mount Vernon-based Center for College and Careers at The Guidance Center of Westchester is helping young people who are eager to work.

A win-win. Alexis Lloyd, a graduate of the Center for College & Careers at The Guidance Center, is ready to work at Murphy Brothers Contracting.
Low-income Westchester residents have been hurt by the county’s lack of affordable housing as well as by inconsistent—or nonexistent—code enforcement that fails to keep low-cost rental housing habitable. More of these residents now play a critical role in advocating for effective affordable housing policy and housing code enforcement because of Community Voices Heard, a grassroots advocacy organization. It is assessing housing needs and pressing for more affordable homes and stricter code enforcement through a grant from the Dominican Sisters of Hope Empowerment Fund.

The Emily and Harold E. Valentine and Evelyn Gable Clark Scholarship Fund is dedicated to helping new artists get started in their careers. At SPACE on Ryder Farm, artists attend a residency program on the grounds of a working organic farm in Brewster. The program, which ensures that 50 percent of residences go to people of color, is a pathway for emerging artists to develop and present a project, learn arts administration roles and responsibilities, develop professional contacts among the residents, and improve their organizational skills.

Immigrants in Westchester often need support for basic human needs—healthy food, health care, learning English, and starting the path to citizenship. The impact of COVID-19 has fallen hard on these families, particularly if they are undocumented. With funding from The Family Fund, El Centro Hispano in White Plains serves more than 2,000 immigrants each year. Many former clients return years later to encourage newly arrived immigrants.

The Foundation launched its COVID-19 Response Fund immediately after the first case of the virus was diagnosed in the City of New Rochelle. With widespread community support, we raised $2 million and activated rapid response grants to meet the urgent needs of frontline nonprofits. As the crisis worsened, we provided support to cover the increased need for food delivery to homebound families and childcare for first responders and essential workers. The Fund helped defray the living costs of low-income families that have been hardest hit by the pandemic’s economic downturn. Grants from the Fund continue to meet emerging needs. For more information, see page 13.
our community affirms

When The Loft LGBT Community Center approached the Foundation for assistance in identifying unmet needs in the LGBTQ community, we readily agreed. We partnered with leaders to conduct a needs assessment of the Westchester LGBTQ community. The result: Stand Up and Be Counted, an innovative report on the LGBTQ community that goes beyond health needs to explore quality-of-life issues. Most were concerned about social isolation in suburbia, lack of affordable LGBTQ-friendly housing, and the need for sensitivity training of home health aides and other paid caregivers for seniors. The LOFT is now working on initiatives to address these pressing needs.

Representing: Members of The LOFT press for visibility and affirmation from the broader community at a Pride Parade.

Community leaders are increasingly seeking innovative strategies to solve society’s most pressing challenges. In October 2019 the Foundation’s Board invited donors, professional advisors, and foundation colleagues to Grace Farms, a unique space just over the border in New Canaan, Connecticut, for a conference we called “Taking the Measure of Philanthropy’s Impact.” Participants explored how business trends align with philanthropy’s traditional role as grantmakers. They also learned about innovative ways foundations and nonprofits are using data to highlight community needs and press for social change.
Donors to the Westchester COVID-19 Response Fund

Over 100 donors contributed to the Westchester COVID-19 Response Fund, helping us exceed our goal of raising $2 million. Gifts ranged from $5 to $1,000,000. Every contribution was gratefully received. Thank you!

Permanent Fund: Dominican Sisters of Hope Empowerment Fund

The Dominican Sisters of Hope established the Empowerment Fund in 2015 to ensure that the voices of the marginalized are not only heard but lead dialogue and advocacy to improve living conditions in our community. Significant legislative victories include passage of the County’s Immigrant Protection Act and the Emergency Tenant Protection Act in Ossining. Through litigation and policy changes, advocates are pressing for expanded protections for workers and have won significant victories. The Worker Justice Center of New York successfully represented 80 landscaping workers in a class action suit for wage theft. It also recovered $900,000 in unpaid wages owed to former employees of a diner who experienced systemic theft of wages, illegal discrimination, and sexual harassment.

Donor-Advised Fund: RXR Building Community Fund

As the master developer for downtown in the City of New Rochelle, RXR is committed to the vitality and resilience of the city’s residents. When COVID-19 emerged in New Rochelle, the Foundation worked closely with RXR to develop its philanthropic response. The company recommended and funded grants to address food insecurity, childcare for first responders, and access to mental health services for low-income residents. As the city gradually re-opened, RXR supported economic development efforts for small businesses and local hiring initiatives.

The company’s equitable, innovative development approach extends beyond its real estate portfolio. It has launched a digital platform, RXR Volunteer (rxrvolunteer.com), that mobilizes skilled volunteers to help individuals, non-profits, and small businesses affected by COVID-19.
